SUMMARY

PurchasingNet's eProcurement solution allows employees at this production facility to quickly and easily process requests for capital or expense items. These requests are then routed electronically for the appropriate approvals, and they are then either turned into requisitions and sent to the purchasing department or are converted into orders and sent directly to pre-approved suppliers. This has helped create a paperless purchasing process.

WHY PURCHASINGNET

The company was looking to automate paper-based requisitioning processes, and PurchasingNet offered the exact set of features they needed to achieve this.

CUSTOMER BENEFIT

With PurchasingNet, department users can check the status of requisitions and approval sign-offs. They are also able to open purchase orders without having to involve the purchasing department. Also, employees are given access to ordering from catalogs, predefined kits or free-form requests.

CUSTOMER OUTCOME

PurchasingNet's eProcurement has allowed for web-based requisitioning and direct ordering to the employee desktop via any web browser. Through this functionality, PurchasingNet has enabled this organization to automate paper-based requisitioning processes without having to install software on each PC.

SOLUTION BENEFITS

- Increase supplier discounting and drive down costs
- Improve overall accounts payable processes
- Measure purchasing performance and deliver reports that identify procurement best practices and inform training for continuous improvement
